A strong community voice to support, enhance and enable quality comprehensive local health services for the people of Airdrie and surrounding communities.

The inspiration for the design of the logo is of a young boy named Lane Bates, who at an early five years of age, passed away October 26, 2009.

TAKE ACTION TODAY

TAKE ACTION TODAY

The Airdrie Health Foundation

is a local non-profit organization created specifically to raise funds in support of health and wellness services, facilities and equipment that would benefit the people of Airdrie and surrounding communities.

Values of the Foundation are:

- 1. Community - We contribute to the health care of local people in a meaningful way. We respond to the needs of community and health professionals, and support their work.
- 2. Partnerships - We establish and maintain partnerships through open communication and effective collaboration. We work in partnership with community groups, Highland Primary Care Network (HPCN), Alberta Health Services (AHS), and the City of Airdrie.
- 3. Education - We support health and wellness education.
- 4. Stewardship - We will be transparent and accountable, responsible stewards of your generous donations, with all funds to benefit the community.

TAKE ACTION TODAY

Our mandate is to raise funds to promote and support health programs, health education, and health facilities of Alberta Health Services (AHS) for the people of Airdrie and surrounding communities.

We're all local people, working together, to make our good community even better.

We're working with local medical professionals, community and business leaders, and provincial and municipal governments to:

1. Improve access to provincial funding that will more realistically accommodate the area's rapid population growth
2. Improve access to both local physicians and specialists through recruitment and retention
3. Improve access to urgent / emergent, rehabilitation, and diagnostic facilities and related services
